Problem 60: Create a home-buyers' comparison services for mortgages, surveys, estate agents. Try to keep it as clear, simple and user friendly as possible

Who is experiencing the problem?
Homeowners/Those seeking to buy a home and cannot easily compile information for multiple houses concisely

What is the Problem?
It is not easy to compile information about homes. We seek to allow the user to have a way to compile their information in an easy way so that they can compare different homes' information.

Where does the problem present itself?

This problem is prolific in the homeowner's market.

Why does it matter?

There are hundreds if not thousands of websites providing information of prices which makes the regular customers so confused. The overflowing of information can be misleading and manipulated by the first party which could be a big disadvantage when browsing for houses online. Having a comparison service could help customers to fact check among all the sites.
